

Professional Polishing Services

Your Partner In Polishing

Stainless Steel is the obvious choice when it comes to architectural designs that need to make a statement. With a variety of finishes available that help combat cross contamination we are experienced in working with the supply chain from architect to fabricator, stock holder to engineer, to ensure that the end result is a structure that will deliver that 'Wow' factor whilst giving a practical performance in the chosen environment.

Our finishes are visible on architectural projects all over the world from Hong Kong to London, Dubai to Sydney, Tipton to the USA.

For more information talk to our Commercial Team on 0121 555 6569 and request your free sample of this finish.
